

CHRISTOPHER NATIVIDAD

Professional Summary

A passionate full-stack developer with a keen eye on well structured design for turning project inception into creation. My experience includes collaborating closely in a team to provide efficient service in high paced environments. Receiving my Bachelors of Science from Rutgers University and certification from Rutgers Coding Bootcamp has prepared me as a Full-Stack Web Developer to handle any given tasks systematically with the best possible results. My skill set and education has taught me to view every complex situation as a learning experience to test my ability and contribute to my own professional growth.
